

Scania Sustainable Transport Forum, Stockholm, Tuesday 22 May 2018

"The climate crisis will affect everything that we love and alter the course of our future. Now, more than ever, we must come together to solve this global crisis. We must act decisively, rise to the occasion and solve this monumental challenge."

Al Gore, Former Vice President of the United States

Climate change, urbanisation and access to energy are some of the most urgent challenges we face in the world today. And the transport industry has an important role to play in tackling these challenges.

Scania's vision is to drive the shift towards a sustainable transport system, creating a world of mobility that is better for business, society and the environment.

As the impetus and desire for change grows ever stronger, what are the best possible solutions for decarbonising the transport system and how can we work together to overcome the challenges we face on a system level?

We will be gathering some of the world's most influential thought leaders and decision makers at our Sustainable Transport Forum, on 22nd May 2018, in Stockholm. Al Gore, Former US Vice President, Christiana Figueres, former Executive Secretary of the UN Framework Convention on Climate Change and Professor Johan Rockström, one of the world's leading scientists on sustainability issues, will stimulate the debate and discussion, as we begin to define a clear direction for the future.

We will focus on how to achieve a fossil-free transport system by 2050 at the latest, in order to meet the Paris agreement targets.
